The Necronomicon, also referred to as the Book of the Dead, or under a purported original Arabic title of Kitab al-Azif, is a fictional grimoire appearing in stories by the horror writer H. P. Lovecraft and his followers. It was first mentioned in Lovecraft's 1924 short story "The Hound", written in 1922, though its purported author, Alhazred's narration is told in a present tense, second person voice.

Once you get used to this unusual style, the necromancer becomes three dimensional, with his own wisdom, madness, and occasional humor portrayed wonderfully by the author.
